

Saturday, November 4, 2017

7:45 – 8:30 a.m.

Donald Roden

Don Roden has served in many leadership capacities before and during his 22 years of military service and the 19 years since he retired.

He has Bachelor Degrees in Marketing and Management as well as an Associate's Degree in Applied Aerospace Sciences. He is a Graduate of the Air Training Command Non-Commissioned Officer Academy and was a Technical Training Instructor for five years in the Air Force.

Don is working on a project to end veteran suicide and help veterans transition after leaving military service.

What Does It Take to Be an Effective and Successful Leader?

In this workshop on leadership we are going to look at what is leadership and what makes a great leader from a different perspective. You will leave this workshop not with a set of tips and techniques to make your leadership better; rather you will walk out with new perspectives and more questions that will raise your leadership into a new paradigm.

One that will have you taking new actions that will lead to results that you did not know were possible. I look forward to spending time with each of you during our session.